The IDS filed May 2, 2006 has been entered and made of record as paper no. 0506.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9-14 and 21-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abraham et al (of record) in view of Ozaki et al (JP-63-4621).

Abraham discloses a method of forming a magnetic memory cell junction comprising the step of patterning a mask layer above a stack of layers and etching and implanting dopants into exposed portions of the stack of layers. Note figures 10-13 of Abraham. Ozaki further teaches the step of alternately etching and implanting dopants into exposed portion in order to form a via-hole at certain depth. Note figures 1(a)-1(e) of Ozaki. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the step of alternately etching and implanting dopants in Abraham's device in order to generate veils along the sidewalls of the patterned stack layers.

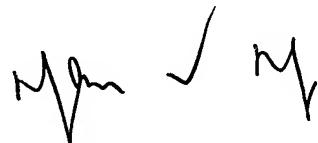

Claims 1 and 4-8 are allowed.

The other references are cited to show other structures pertinent to Applicants' disclosure. For example, Yang discloses in column 4, lines 36-38, the step of alternately etching and implanting dopants and Widmann discloses in the abstract the step of alternately etching and implanting dopants.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-14 and 21-28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
